

Limerick Ends Strike Against British Army

(Correspondence Associated Press)
LIMERICK, Eng., May 5.—This sleepy old city has resumed the even tenor of its way after an exciting experience with a government of strike leaders which seized the administration of the community's affairs and for a period of eleven days regulated the goings and comings of some 38,000 persons in the face of British soldiers and Irish constables.

The statement of one of the leaders that the "British can now see we do possess the ability to govern ourselves" may be taken as the real motive for their action. The controlling power in the leading Irish organizations desired to prove to the government the falsity of the repeated statement that "Irishmen cannot govern themselves."

The Limerick experiment originated in an incident dating back to last year when members of the Royal Irish Constabulary searched the home of a Limerick postal clerk and found a revolver. For this he was sentenced to a term in prison. There he refused food and soon it was necessary to remove him to the Clare workhouse to save his life.

There a party of his friends entered the hospital and clashed with the guard. One constable was shot dead, several others wounded, and the clerk also hit. He died within a few hours.

The military authorities learned that the dead clerk's friends were attempting to give him a military funeral at which all Limerick and Clare men were to appear in the uniform of their military organization the "Irish Volunteers." Orders were issued from the military headquarters in Limerick forbidding a military funeral. The Irish leaders decided to attend the funeral in their ordinary attire.

The funeral will never be forgotten in southern Limerick. All business houses were closed and the blinds tightly drawn. Factories and workshops were closed also, sending many persons to the streets.

At 2 o'clock parties of armed men appeared at strategic points in side streets off the line of march. At each important point an armored car was stationed, its guns commanding the route to be followed by the funeral procession.

The funeral was held at 3 p. m. and the march from the cathedral began. No man wore a uniform, but they marched with the steady stride and perfect ranks of well drilled soldiers. Fifteen thousand of them were, with Mayor Alphonsus O'Mara and other city officials in the line.

The next day Limerick was proclaimed a "restricted area." Military lines had been established so dividing the city that workmen living in Clare and employed in Limerick must have passes to go into the city.

This angered the trade unionists, who declared they ought to have the right to go to and from work without the consent of the British government. The Trades and Labor Council called a general strike. A proclamation was issued closing every factory and store, and generally placing the activities of the city under control of the strike leaders. It was instantly obeyed, not a store or shop

DARING GAMES OF SWINDLERS

(Correspondence Associated Press)

FRANKFORT, Germany, May 4.—Three men and two women, posing as an American special mission, who used a government automobile to pay formal calls to the consuls and other officials have been arrested here. It is charged that they were making preparations to swindle the officials.

The case recalls the fact that Romania has been the first European state to enter negotiations with Germany for the suppression of international swindlers after the war. The Tageblatt calls attention to the fact that it will be difficult to control this evil when the frontier passage difficulties are removed and hopes that other European states will co-operate with Germany for the suppression of swindlers who, it says, are sure to be an even greater menace than in peace times.

This is the inn mentioned in "Pickwick Papers," where Mr. Pickwick, in his horror, found himself in the bedroom of a middle-aged lady in curl papers.

Over the front porch, the sign, described by Mr. Pickwick of a "stone statue of some rampaging animal, with flowing mane and tail, distinctly resembling an insane cart-horse," is still in existence.

Do Your Tires Save or Waste?

IN these days of urgent conservation the wasteful tire is as out of place as meat on Tuesdays and wheat on Wednesdays.

Equip with tires that save, in tire mileage, tire life, car life, fuel and real money.

Firestone FABRIC TIRES

CORD Tire research has brought forth notable improvements in Firestone Fabric Tire construction, particularly—

① The increased thickness of the pure gum cushion between tread and fabric adds resilience, defends the body of the tire from shocks and bruises, gives greater riding comfort and longer car life.

② More rubber between fabric layers gives greater elasticity and protection against friction.

③ A perfect and firm seating of the tire to the rim is the result of the reinforcement in bead and side wall.

④ The tough, wear-resisting tread of greater thickness adds more miles of travel.
Firestone Tubes, Tube Patches and other accessories in your equipment save tires, time, troubles. No wasteful delays. Keep on going.
